Goals and Objectives:

The goal of a website for this company, is to improve online sales through better product discovery. Success will be measured by an increase in website traffic, reduced bounce rates, and higher conversion rates on specific comic runs.

Current Website Analysis:

The current site suffers from a severe lack of discoverability in its content. Users cannot filter by specifics such as writers, artists, series, genres, etc. The main focus should be solving this and implementing an advanced search and filter function.

Design and User Experience:

The aesthetic will use a dark mode palette with a comic book yellow for readability. Layouts will be mobile responsive and have high quality cover art for works.

Technical Requirements:

The site will be built using HTML5, CSS3, and JavaScript. The same domain will continue to be used.
